Healthy Him:-

When I am not busy with my directorial enterprises or music shows, I spend as much time as possible taking care of my body, which is my temple too. I try to be quite aware of my health, diet, and my physical upkeep. After all, a sound mind can only reside in a sound body!

My works not only includes albums as a singer, I have had the great fortune to be able to direct some of my own albums too. "Soniye Ni," "Waheguru – A Soulful Chanting," "Karle Ibadat" are some of my directorial ventures. Another directorial venture was "Rab Da Banda" which was a short film.

Apart from singing for my albums and on musical tours and directing, I also keep myself busy and involved as an adjudicator for various music shows and festivals. I review and critique Bollywood Box Office. This is my way of giving back to the industry that has been so kind to me; my way of thanking the Almighty.

His thoughts

My Number One preferred quality in any human being would be Truth. Where truth goes, honesty usually accompanies it. As long as a person is true and honest, everything else can be forgiven – well, almost! Being true means being pure. Being pure is divine! Need I say more?

A genuine singer has only two goals – a discerning audience and a platform to perform!

I am no different! To realize my dreams, I am working towards securing as many performances as I can, on stages as scattered across the world as possible. My singular aim is to perform – and keep performing – in front of an audience who open their souls and let me touch them with my voice. That is a transcendent experience that I keep dreaming of.

My upcoming endeavours will include more Sufi shows where I can connect with my audiences at a very spiritual level. I am also looking to venture into Punjabi movies.

Dreams

My ambitious goal is to swiftly ascend to the status of a celebrity makeup artist, while also setting my sights on a horizon where I can impart knowledge and extend support to the less privileged. This envisioned future, which I aim to attain in the near term, holds a dual purpose: to establish myself as a renowned figure in the realm of makeup artistry and to extend a helping hand to those who lack access to essential resources.

My passion for makeup is matched by a burning desire to uplift those facing economic challenges. By immersing myself in perfecting my art, I intend to achieve celebrity status, adorning the faces of the stars while using my influence to effect positive change. Beyond the glamour, my heart resonates with the struggles of the less fortunate, and I aspire to bridge the gap by offering education and necessary tools.

Struggle:

Witnessing my mother's tenacious efforts to provide for our family despite financial challenges deeply impacted me. She, a skilled beautician, and makeup artist, had aspirations that were sometimes deferred due to our circumstances. This struggle became a pivotal point for me, driving me to contribute and find my own path. As I observed her journey, my intrigue in makeup artistry ignited.

I delved into the world of makeup by learning makeup from my mother and absorbing online tutorials and honing my skills through practice. Gradually, I transitioned from a spectator to an active participant, experimenting with techniques on my mother and even taking on clients. The positive reception I received from these initial attempts fueled my determination to enhance my expertise. Eager to refine my skills, I sought knowledge from seminars and short-term courses both in-person and online.

These educational ventures not only polished my artistry but also bolstered my confidence. Instructors acknowledged my dedication, spurring me to strive for excellence. As I stood on the precipice of my own makeup journey, I couldn't help but reflect on the inspiration drawn from my mother's relentless struggle. From adversity emerged a passion, and from passion, a path paved with self-discovery and the potential to not only transform faces but also lives.

Achievements

Triumphing in the Soul and Smile Makeup Competition, a pinnacle achievement that holds profound significance for me.

Attaining the prestigious title of a Celebrity Makeup Artist, a recognition that underscores my dedication and skill.

Contribution to T-Series' upcoming short film and song as a makeup artist, reflecting my participation in noteworthy cinematic projects.

Establishing impactful partnerships as a Makeup Partner for diverse fashion shows and shoots, highlighting my collaborative prowess and industry involvement.
