BLENDING EDUCATION -

THE NEW NORMAL

When flower is unable to bloom, we need to change the environment it needs. Flower needs all love and care. No child can be tagged slow or failure, no report card is meant to put red mark on a child and asking him or her to repeat the class, we need to review the whole classroom scenario. Here comes the role of blended learning. What I mean by blended education is -

WHEN STUDENTS COMBINE ONLINE AS WELL AS FACE TO FACE INTERACTION/ ACTIVITIES.... USING CLASS TIME WORKING WITH TEACHER AND PEERS IN GROUP LEARNING HOW TO APPLY THEIR KNOWLEDGE TO BEST POSSIBLE MANNER.

Blended learning is a terrific example of combining the strengths of multiple methods into powerful educational experiences that benefit students. It is an increasingly important approach that allows students to reach outside classroom walls for guided learning experiences, which in turn allows for creative, provocative and meaningful interaction during face-to-face class time. Some people feel it has a charming effect on students as paneer masala does for kadai paneer. As we get ready for 2021-2022, pandemic grim times, the biggest mistake we make is to assume that the transition from the traditional curriculum, pedagogies, assessments to blended curriculum, pedagogies and assessment will be smooth. Designing a blended learning curriculum, which will be completely different from present day curriculum, is a biggest challenge. How much RATIO OF TIME needed for online and offline mode.

Also BLENDED LEARNING PEDAGOGY totally different from conventional way of teaching need attention here. This is where we will run into the major problem. Teachers are using technology tools like video conferencing, quizzing platforms, interactive apps, or subject specific apps still students and parents are not satisfied. They feel our teaching staff is not empowered to design their unique blended learning pedagogical strategies to equip the students with the new set of skills required in time to come to achieve their goals. These types of challenges spark a new discussion among education stalwarts. Covid-19 is the BLACK SWAN event of the 21st century. More than a year it continues to wreak havoc, disrupting lives and livelihood and impacting several economic and educational sectors. It is disturbing learning though not talked about extensively. Digital became the DE FACTO medium in education, got a big boost but no electricity, poor internet connection, digital divide could not bring the desired learning outcomes. Softer aspects such as students peer-learning, collaborative activities, communication, socialisation which are natural human instincts, have taken a back seat. Besides, the online virtual classrooms can not support experimentation and emotional exchange. It appears to me as teacher monologuing followed by student assignments and tests.

GEORGE EVANS once said "Every student can LEARN Just not on the same day Or in the same way We should not wait for the storm to pass But should learn to dance in the rain. Balance is not something we find, we create.

April 2024

Sandra Adeyeye Bello is a highly accomplished marketing communications specialist with a strong focus on assisting women in business to effectively align their messaging with the most suitable marketing campaigns.

As the CEO & Founder of Money Woman International, she leads a mission to empower women globally through financial education and empowerment.

Committed to breaking barriers and fostering financial independence, Sandra believes in the transformative power of financial literacy.

Mission: At Money Woman International, we are dedicated to providing women with the knowledge, tools, and resources to take control of their financial futures.

From educational programs to community initiatives, we strive to create a world where every woman is financially empowered.

Journey

As the CEO of Money Woman International, my journey began with a deep-seated passion for empowering women on emotional and financial fronts. It all started with a vision, a vision to create a platform where women from all walks of life could find support, guidance, and empowerment. This vision materialized into the Different Woman Network, an emotional empowerment brand aimed at nurturing the inner strength and resilience of women.

The Different Woman Network was born out of the realization that women often face unique challenges in various spheres of life, be it personal relationships, career aspirations, or societal expectations. It aimed to provide a safe space where women could come together, share their experiences, and uplift each other through mutual support and understanding. Through workshops, seminars, and community events, the Different Woman Network became a beacon of hope for countless women seeking solace and

However, as I delved deeper into the journey of empowering women, I realized that true empowerment cannot be achieved without addressing the systemic barriers that hinder women's financial independence. While emotional empowerment is undeniably crucial, it is only one piece of the puzzle. Thus, the seed for Money Woman International was planted – a brand dedicated to empowering women not only emotionally but also financially. The transition from the Different Woman Network to Money Woman International marked a significant evolution in our mission and purpose. We recognized that financial empowerment is a fundamental aspect of women's liberation and equality. It's not just about earning money; it's about gaining control over one's finances, breaking free from economic dependence, and paving the way for a more secure future.

With this newfound focus, Money Woman International set out to equip women with the knowledge, tools, and resources needed to take charge of their financial destinies. We launched a series of initiatives, including financial literacy workshops, investment seminars, and entrepreneurship programs, aimed at bridging the gender wealth gap and fostering economic independence among women. The journey from the Different Woman Network to Money Woman International has been nothing short of transformative. It has been a journey of growth, learning, and resilience – a testament to the power of women coming together to create positive change. Today, Money Woman International stands as a symbol of hope and empowerment for women worldwide, inspiring them to dream big, break barriers, and rewrite their financial destinies. In essence, my journey to creating Money Woman International has been fueled by a relentless commitment to empowering women in every sense of the word – emotionally, financially, and beyond.

Dream

I dream of a world where women everywhere have the financial freedom to call the shots in their lives. It's not just a dream; it's my mission, my driving force.

In my vision, women aren't just bystanders in their financial journeys; they're the captains of their ships, steering confidently towards their goals and dreams. They're making informed decisions, investing wisely, and building the lives they deserve. Imagine a world where every woman, regardless of her background or circumstances, has the knowledge and tools to take control of her financial future. No more relying on others for financial decisions or feeling trapped by money worries. It's about empowerment, pure and simple.

MS. MONEY WOMAN PAGEANT

THEME: BEAUTY & BRILLIANCE

Work

Absolutely, our work on Money Woman International is shared into the four key areas - the club, events, media, and store.

1. The Club: At MWI, the club isn't just a membership – it's a community of who are financially aware and prioritizing their financial wellbeing - these are women on a mission. Through the club, women from all walks of life come together to connect, learn, and grow. It's a space where they can share their experiences, support each other, and access exclusive resources tailored to their financial empowerment journey. From networking opportunities to mentorship programs, the club is the heartbeat of MWI, fostering a sense of belonging and sisterhood among its members.

2. Events: MWI events aren't your typical gatherings – they're transformative experiences designed to inspire, educate, and empower. We currently have two major events per year - Ms. Money Woman Pageant every month of March and Money Women Conference in November. Ms. Money Woman Pageant is a virtual business pageant that aims to create better representation for women in business and our Money Women Conference will connect women globally for a new ecosystem of economic influence.

3. Media: In today's digital age, media is a powerful tool for spreading messages and sparking change. That's why MWI leverages various media channels – from social media platforms to our blogs, online radio, TV and bi-annual magazine – to amplify the voices of women and champion their financial empowerment journey. Through compelling storytelling, expert interviews, and practical tips, our media content educates, inspires, and motivates women to take charge of their finances and unlock their full potential. It's about providing them with the information and inspiration they need to make informed decisions and build a brighter future for themselves and their families.

4. Store: The MWI store isn't just a marketplace – it's a gateway to financial empowerment. From books on personal finance to tools for budgeting and investing, our store offers a curated selection of resources aimed at equipping women with the knowledge and tools they need to thrive financially. And beyond just products, it's a platform for empowerment, a symbol of the endless possibilities that come with financial independence.

Future plans

As the CEO of Money Woman International, I'm excited to share our vision for the future – a future where women everywhere are empowered to take control of their financial destinies and create the lives they truly deserve.

First and foremost, we're committed to expanding our reach and impact. That means reaching more women, in more places, and empowering them with the knowledge and resources they need to thrive financially. Whether it's through strategic partnerships, innovative marketing campaigns, or targeted outreach efforts, we're dedicated to making sure no woman is left behind. But it's not just about quantity; it's about quality too. We're focused on delivering high-impact programs and initiatives that yield tangible results. That means refining our existing offerings, investing in new technologies, and staying ahead of the curve to meet the evolving needs of women in today's fast-paced world. One of our key priorities moving forward is to deepen our engagement with our community. That means fostering stronger connections, facilitating meaningful conversations, and creating spaces where women feel empowered to share their stories, ask questions, and support each other on their financial journeys.

In addition, we're exploring new avenues for growth and innovation. Whether it's launching new products and services, expanding into new markets, or harnessing the power of technology to deliver personalized solutions, we're constantly pushing the boundaries to ensure we're at the forefront of the financial empowerment movement.

And of course, we're always striving to lead by example. That means practicing what we preach, embodying the values of empowerment, inclusivity, and integrity in everything we do. Whether it's in our business practices, our partnerships, or our internal culture, we're committed to walking the talk and setting the standard for excellence in the industry.

My name is Shiba nasseri. 21 year's old.

I am from Afghanistan. and I'm living at Kabul city now.

I was Student at Environmental Engineering faculty Kabul University.

I have never traveled abroad, I have not gone out of Afghanistan. But I traveled in some provinces of Afghanistan.

I have many dreams, I want to study in one of the most prestigious universities in the world and get rid of the current bad conditions in Afghanistan. I want to get my masters and doctorate in environmental engineering.

I worked for a short period of time in the research and article writing network of Nations, and for a short period of time I was an intern at the GAOTek company.

I have no more work experience.

If I can continue my education, I want to get my master's degree and doctorate in environmental engineering and do environmental services in my country Afghanistan and the country where I am studying. And as an environmental and climate change activist in society. And continue to be one of the different ways of the voice of Afghan women and girls. To represent Afghan women and girls in world conferences and gatherings.

After these plans, I want to make a good life for myself and my parents.

I just want to say tht don't be ungrateful. We are in good health and that's a blessing from god . I leave the face to your judgment and understanding.

About Her

Penelope Akoum is a Law student from Lebanon, she is also working as Country representative for Women Ascension, she is a fierce advocate for Human rights and, especially women rights and children rights, she believes in the impact of education, communication, and diplomacy on peaceful and sustainable societies. Thus she gives trainings to high schoolers about public speaking and diplomacy.

As pope John Paul II said “Lebanon is more than a country; it is a message of freedom and an example of pluralism for East and West.”

And from Lebanon I would like to share with you my message about peace and hope and freedom.

As you all know, Lebanon has been through a rough period of time, the monetary crisis, corona virus, and sadly the explosion of the 4th of August 2020.

All of these are shocking incidents.

This explosion didn't only destroy Beirut our Capital but it destroyed our mental health. However we refused to give up.

With very little means all Lebanese from different backgrounds and religions stood hand by hand and rebuilt all damaged houses and shops.

Due to the absolute disappearance of our Government Local NGOs and youth especially young women initiated strategies, and projects in order to come up with a mechanism for affected people to overcome this dreadful tragedy.

After this unfortunate event I have noticed that regardless of our differences we can always cooperate and work together for the public Welfare.

And this is my message to world, we should always put our humanity first and we should always think of underprivileged people because it is our job as humans to always give back to our community, to our country and most importantly to our humanity. Or else we will never be achieving peaceful and impactful societies.
